EDMONTON, ALBERTA, SATURDAY, OCTOBER 7, 1905

PROVINCIAL CAMPAIGN OPENED

Hon. C. W. Cross Addressed a Crowded Meeting in Robertson's Hall Last Evening—Conservative Candidate Given an Opportunity to Present His Views.

The opening gun in the Provincial campaign in the Edmonton constituency was fired last evening when Hon. C. W. Cross, attorney-general, addressed an audience which filled Robertson hall to the doors. The meeting was held under the auspices of the Young Liberal Club, A. H. W. A. Griesbach, Conservative candidate was present and was accorded the usual privilege of addressing the meeting. A goodly number of Mr. Griesbach's supporters turned out and neither speaker lacked the encouragement of applause. President Geo. Macleod of the Young Liberal club, presided and in a few remarks introduced Mr. Cross.

HON. C. W. CROSS

The attorney-general was greeted with vigorous applause. He was glad to have the opportunity to address the electors of Edmonton on the subjects which would at an early date be the issues in a Provincial election. For many years the Government of the North West Territories had been carried on by a non-party government under the leadership of Hon. F. W. G. Haultain. Shortly after Mr. Haultain had in 1902 been again endorsed by the people of the Territories the Conservatives had decided that it was time for a change of system and at the Moose Jaw convention introduced a party-line resolution. There was nothing for Liberals to do but follow and at the Calgary convention a platform was adopted. The Alberta Conservatives met in Red Deer shortly after and with the exception of one or two clauses adopted the Liberal platform. One of the clauses of this platform was being more or less discussed throughout the Province. The speaker read the "school clause" of the Liberal platform and said that upon this the Administration would go to the country for endorsement. The Conservatives of Edmonton had required their candidate to accept a clause demanding the abolition of the separate schools of this Province; the Red Deer convention however had declined to adopt this and make the a straight fight; Mr. Borden had moved simply for the application of the B. N. A. Act to the clerical school system in force before 1891 or 1901, while the Pincher Creek Conservatives were in favor of anything except the Red Deer resolution. The speaker was not in favor of the abolition of the separate school system of Alberta and wanted to know how Mr. Griesbach would abolish those schools. He argued with Mr. Griesbach on the question of national schools in Alberta which was not a school in the direct and entire control of the department of education. There was no inspector in Alberta whose special business it was to inspect separate schools, as in Manitoba, the school books in use were identical. If the Conservatives could point to any abuses under the present school system there might be reason for a change. Thirty Protestant heads of families in Edmonton were sending their children to the separate school, which was evidence that they considered that school quite as efficient as the public schools. Mr. Griesbach and his friends had been in Edmonton when the Edmonton Federal constituency was opened over the school question. Then was their time to express their condemnation of the school system, but they had not done so. The position of the Government was that the system which had worked with entire satisfaction for fourteen years, should be left alone. The Conservatives had never previously raised objection to the school system, and did so now in the hope of creating an agitation which might result in a Conservative triumph at Ottawa.

Another question about which considerable discussion was taking place at present was that of the location of the capital. He read an extract of an editorial from the Calgary Herald attacking Hon. W. H. Cushing on the ground that he was a member of a Government favoring the location of the capital at Edmonton.

MR. GRIESBACH.

The chairman announced the time limit and called on Mr. Griesbach, who was lustily cheered by his followers, and read from copious typewritten notes for something over half an hour. He was glad to be in the camp of the enemy as it might enable him to say something which would take root in their minds and bring forth fruits meet for repentance. He would not defend the Moose Jaw convention and declared that the fact that the Government defended the bill was sufficient reason for him to attack it. He contended that clause 95 of the B. N. A. Act covered the case, that the union took place in 1871 and that at that time there were no separate schools in the Territories. Conservatives had lived peacefully under the present law during the Territorial status believing it to be temporary and that it would be cast away when autonomy was secured. He stated that separate schools were established in the Northwest because the members of Parliament from Quebec wanted them. He wanted to establish the proposition that the Liberal party was in favor of separate schools and so to make the issue clear. Religious pictures and images were displayed in separate schools, and a religious and sectarian influence existed in such schools. This meant inefficiency and separation of children. A power great enough to lay on these great and free provinces a school system which was repugnant to them was great enough to bring to this country immigrants of an undesirable character. He felt that time would justify the stand he was taking, and that he voiced the opinions of 90 per cent of the people in the Province. He would if elected vote to repeal the present system and let those who felt aggrieved by such action appeal against it.

Another great question was that of the public domain. No man could estimate the richness of Alberta's resources. He contended that the grant was insufficient in view of the domain and insufficient for the needs of the province. If the Province had the domain it could bear a portion of the expense and possibly secure better settlers than were now being secured. There were only about forty Mount. Police in the Province doing police duty exclusively, and the Province could attend to this if the domain were in its hands. He claimed that 12000 tons of coal were being mined per day in the province, on which a royalty of 10c per ton was sent to Ottawa. A man in Edmonton could not get a good timber berth. These went to Ottawa. If we must have graft he wanted to have it in Edmonton. Ontario had used up only 18 per cent of its domain and had received for that ten million dollars. He admitted that the terms were generous but contended that if we had the domain we could forego a large part of the grant and "push on to our manifest destiny." If the first legislature of the Province endorsed the school and land clauses, this would lead to vested rights which could not be constitutionally removed. He denied that his election would mean the loss of the capital to Edmonton. That the Government had three ministers south of Red Deer was not evidence of their favoring Edmonton for the capital.

MR. CROSS REPLIES.

In rising to reply Mr. Cross was given a splendid reception. He pointed out the differences between the school system which had been abolished in Manitoba and that which was in force in the Territories. Sir Wilfrid Laurier had stood for non-interference when the Province of Manitoba wanted to repeal an objectionable system and in so doing was supported almost to a man by the members from the Province of Quebec while Ontario returned a majority against him.

The Mount. Police had been started under the administration of Hon. Alex. MacKenzie, Mr. Griesbach to that platform what he had hoped never to see in western Canada—an attack made by a speaker on one section of the community. He was quite as good a Protestant as Mr. Griesbach, but if Protestantism meant intolerance he was not a Protestant. It was not the Roman Catholic church or people who asked for religious teaching in North West schools. The man who approached the Government in 1891 and had the permissive religious clause inserted in the school law was an elder in the Presbyterian church and had been a school inspector. In 1899 it was the heads of the Anglican and Presbyterian churches to which Mr. Griesbach himself belonged, respectively, who demanded from the Government of Manitoba permission for religious instruction.

Mr. Bennett said that if defeated he would still agitate Mr. Griesbach would stop agitating on election day. In framing the school clauses the Government did so in the light of history, and in so doing, gave the minorities to understand that if an appeal was made for remedial legislation against any future act of the Provincial Government the present school law was the maximum the Government would grant.

With Mr. Griesbach he did not believe in separate schools, but stood for maintaining a system which had worked entirely satisfactorily and against which no protest had been lodged. He challenged Mr. Griesbach to point out an abuse in the Alberta school system or in any Alberta separate school.

If in future, abuses arose that would be the time to deal with them. So long as he was a member of the Alberta Government no abuses such as were admitted to exist under the Conservative Governments of Manitoba and Ontario would be permitted.

Referring to the land question Mr. Cross read the famous declaration of Sir John A. Macdonald regarding the lands of Manitoba in which that distinguished statesman denied the provincial proprietorship of the domain. Mr. Borden wanted to turn over the lands to the Province and also to saddle upon the Province the burden of the Immigration policy.

He preferred to let the grafters stay in Ottawa. If grafters were must have, where they would be dealt with by Hon. Frank Oliver. It was the settlement policy of the Federal Government laid before them in a spirit of moderation and was assured that having done so they would agree with him that whereas the Conservative policy meant stagnation and strife the policy of the Government meant peace and prosperity for the province.

The meeting closed with the National Anthem and cheers for the candidates.

THE MAN ON THE FENCE

Never in its history has a politician in western Canada been more decidedly and admittedly on the fence regarding the questions of the hour than is the present leader of the Conservative party in Alberta.

In his speeches in the early part of the campaign Mr. Bennett made it abundantly evident that the program of the Red Deer convention was not the program of Mr. Bennett. That convention adopted a series of resolutions supposed to embody the thought of the delegates present as to the policy which should be applied to the Government of this Province and on which platform the party candidates should ask the endorsement of the electorate. But the thoughts of Mr. Bennett are not the thoughts of the Red Deer convention. With the future he apparently has no concern. Alike his purpose and his policy are shaped to the party needs of the present, regardless of the future needs of the Province. Of the "constructive statesmanship" of which so many shining platitudes have been ejected by Mr. Bennett no evidence is forthcoming in his addresses.

Not only so but on those questions which Mr. Bennett has been pleased to make the basis of his attack upon the Government and the text of his fervent appeals to the electorate, the Conservative leader either has no policy or he is afraid to state it.

Questioned very pointedly on Friday evening at Lethbridge whether if given the power by the Privy Council he would repeal the present school law, Mr. Bennett could only excuse himself for declining to reply on the ground that it was useless to discuss this question till the constitutional point had been decided.

In other words, Mr. Bennett modestly requests the public to elect him with the understanding that he will test the school clause before the Privy Council and if given power will do with the school system as he pleases.

Asked if it was part of his land policy to sell the odd-numbered sections of the crown lands Mr. Bennett offered by way of reply the statement that Mr. Sifton had once proposed this policy. In his statement Mr. Bennett was as far as possible from the truth, but not farther than from a direct reply to the direct question.

In other words the proposal of Mr. Bennett is that the people of Alberta should elect him with the understanding that he is to by some means secure control of the crown lands in Alberta and then do with them according to his own sweet will.

On both questions on which he is making his assault upon the Government Mr. Bennett has specifically and directly declined to state his policy; therefore Mr. Bennett either does not know what his policy will be or he does not dare to state it.

The modesty of Mr. Bennett in thus requesting to be made Czar of Alberta, unfettered by any policy and unrestrained by any promise, is too conspicuous to need comment. But the need of comment is just as great as the chances of the electors obliging Mr. Bennett in these matters. The electors of Alberta have learned too long to vote for the definite policy of a progressive party to be prepared to bestow their franchise on a policyless politician.

BROKEN OUT AGAIN

The Regina Standard reproduces under an alarming heading a verbatim report of a speech delivered some time since by Mr. J. S. Willison of the Toronto News on the subject of separate schools in Canada. As might be gathered from the name of the author and the circumstances under which the remarks were launched considerable attention is given to the "school question" in the new provinces of Alberta and Saskatchewan, and the purpose of the reproduction in the Saskatchewan paper may be taken as evidence of the intention and purpose to make of it campaign literature on behalf of the Conservative party in these provinces during the coming elections. As prospective Conservative campaign literature the article has an interest quite superior to that warranted by its merits and an examination of some of the statements and admissions contained in it may be not without profit to those who take an interest in the discussion of the questions on which the Conservatives are endeavoring to ferment the people of the two new Provinces.

Mr. Willison goes quite fully into the history of the negotiations which led up to Confederation, concluding this part of his remarks with the admission that provision for the establishment and maintenance of separate schools in the Dominion was incorporated into the constitution in compliance with the fear of Protestants in the Province of Quebec. "That unless provision to this end was introduced into the Imperial act of Confederation, there was grave fear that their educational rights would be left to the control of the majority of the local legislature without any guarantee whatever."

After a brief handling of the appeal of the Roman Catholic minority of Nova Scotia for remedial legislation the speaker devoted some attention to the case of Manitoba and after a lengthy review of the history of the school question in that province comes to the not uninteresting conclusion that:

"Thus in Manitoba all elements of the population attend a common school, racial and sectarian differences are softened, and a common citizenship and a common patriotism are developed, all this has high national value, particularly in a community which embraces the representatives of many creeds and races, where so much depends upon a common language, free intercourse, and a common conception of the duties of citizenship."

This is a much better face than Premier Roblin or any of his Manitoba friends have been able to put on the school system of that Province since it was put out of joint by the revelations of the absolutely church-controlled system of bilingual schools, established in that province; schools taught by teachers in clerical garb and certificated only by the St. Boniface normal school, in which schools distinctively religious instruction takes place as a matter of actual and regular practice, the work of which schools is inspected only by Mr. Roger Goulet, a former graduate and now principal of the St. Boniface Normal school, and whose reports of these schools are not complimentary in the last degree to the efficiency of the work done. To those who know these facts as they exist in the unpoetic reality, the flowery picture of the Ontario journalist does not savor of the fullness of knowledge.

When Mr. Willison says "Nowhere is the education provided in the separate schools as efficient as that of the public schools" he may speak the truth so far as Ontario is concerned but certainly does not represent the facts of the so-called separate school system of the Provinces of Alberta and Saskatchewan. Under the regulations of the educational system for which Mr. Haultain claims the credit and which he says he would not alter though a dictator, any inefficiency in the conduct of any school in these provinces is chargeable solely against the capabilities or energies of the teacher or teachers and not against the system. Nor has any charge been made by those who seek the power to destroy the present system of any tendency to inefficiency in the separate schools of the provinces.

Mr. Willison concludes, with reference to the West:

"When we consider the composite population which is pouring into that wide land from every corner of the earth, we think of Pontecost, where we found 'Parthians and Medes and Elamites and the dwellers in Mesopotamia, and in Judea and Cappadocia, in Pontus and Asia, Phrygia, and Pamphilia, in Egypt and in the parts of Libya about Cyrene, and strangers of Rome, Jews and proselytes, Cretes and Arabians. And the faith we cherish is that as the years pass, rich in achievement and in contentment, we may hear 'every man in our own tongue, wherein we were born.'"

It is left for the reader to gather that the speaker would have altered this condition of Pontecost had he had the opportunity. It is likewise left for him to judge whether Mr. Willison and those whom his utterances are designed to aid, would alter the system for the power to destroy which they are besieging the electorate. Neither Mr. Willison nor his associates have as yet condescended to inform the public.

The selection of tobacco takes time and great care—the conditions of its growth, the soil, the planting, and the cultivation, must all be considered.

I have studied tobacco from the seed to the cigar. I have a thorough knowledge of the qualities grown on the different plantations in the Manicouaga district of Cuba, where the best tobaccos are produced. It is from the best of these plantations that I buy the filler of my Pharaoh Cigar.

I was the first manufacturer in Canada to use Manicouaga tobacco. It proved such a winner that the tobacco agents in New York sell thousands of boxes of tobacco under that name that was never within one hundred miles of the district.

I visit these plantations every season, and personally select the tobacco I buy. The growers there call me a tobacco crank because I am so careful and particular in the selection of my tobacco. I would rather be thought a crank than jeopardize the quality of my Pharaoh cigar.

I know that every time you smoke a Pharaoh cigar you will thank me for being a tobacco crank—that is full recompense for my trouble and care.

LITERARY NOTES

The Canadian Magazine celebrates the completion of its twenty-fifth volume with a special anniversary number for October. It is a fairly safe declaration that this is the most representative literary number ever issued by a Canadian publication. Twenty-five writers are represented and nearly all are in the first rank of Canadian literatures. Benjamin Sulte tells the story of French-Canadian literature in a characteristic manner. Mr. Sulte, besides being president of the Royal Society, has been intimately connected with literary work for over forty years. Archibald MacMechan performs the same office in Nova Scotia literature. Mr. MacMechan is professor of English in Dalhousie University, Halifax, and has given special attention to this subject. Robert Barr, the Canadian who is now editor of the Idler, makes some semi-humorous predictions as to the future of Canada and Great Britain. J. S. Willison, editor of the Toronto News, makes some pungent remarks on "Journalism and Public Life in Canada." Hockley Wilson makes an excellent suggestion in a short article, "Migration, not Emigration," to the effect that the movement of the British people should be regulated in some way by the British Government. The stories are contributed by Louis Frechette, William McLeannan, Norman Duncan, Eve Brodrique-Summers and W. A. Fraser—Five well-known writers. The McLeannan story is supposed to be the last written by this gifted writer. The poetry is by William Wilfrid Campbell, Mrs. Lefevre, Jean Blewett, Frank Parker Day, and Charles G. D. Roberts. There is an illustrated article on Lord Nelson and his victories, and another on the inauguration of the two provinces, besides the usual departments.

Mr. W. A. Fraser has for the boys this Christmas a new Canadian animal book, "The Sa-Zada Tales" to be ready early in October, and gotten out in superb style by Charles Scribner's Sons, of New York, and William Briggs, of Toronto. Since Mr. Fraser wrote his Moose tales no such good stories of animals have been written as in this book. A series of forty-eight full page illustrations, by Mr. Arthur Heming, who is pre-eminent in this class of work, together with a striking and handsome cover, help to make this an extraordinarily attractive book for the holiday trade.

Uncle Sam Changes his Mind

Washington, Oct. 6.—The most interesting subjects discussed at the cabinet meetings today were the Chinese boycott against American goods and the consideration of the complaints made by the Chinese against the methods of execution of the existing Chinese exclusion laws.

The important fact developed was that the president's effort last summer to ally the indignation of the Chinese by a circular of instructions to the American minister to China and consular officers there, had in a measure failed in its purpose and required considerable amendment, to secure the object sought. Being freshly back from the Orient, Secretary Taft took a prominent part in the discussion of the matter when it was broached by Secretary Root.

It developed that the requirement that American consuls identify the Chinese seeking certificates admitting them to American ports, imposed a task upon these officers beyond their ability.

The Chinese applicant frequently came from some place far distant from the American consulate and the consul was consequently obliged to identify as proper persons to be admitted to the United States many very worthy Chinese, which, of course, led to bitter complaints and fostered the boycott feeling.

The trend of opinion in the cabinet meeting was that these complaints after all, were directed rather against the construction placed upon the law than against the law itself and especially against the definition given in California to the term "coolie," so it was practically decided that changes in the present regulations must be made.

NEW TIME TABLE

Calgary, Oct. 5.—General Superintendent Jamieson has issued a supplementary time table for Alberta. There are no changes of the arrival of trains in the city, but some alteration is made in the arrival and departure of trains from Strathcona, 20 minutes being made up on each run.

The new country being opened up by the branches east of the C. & E. are now served by a train service every other day. The same train and crew is used making the run from Wetaskiwin Mondays, Wednesdays and Fridays and going out from Lacombe Tuesdays, Thursdays and Saturdays. On the Edmonton branch the trains leave at the same time, 7:45 for the daily and 15:45 for the Monday, Wednesday, and Friday train. Twenty minutes is cut off the run to Strathcona the trains arriving at 15:40 and 22:40 respectively. The reduction brings the trains into Red Deer 10 minutes ahead of the old time. Coming down from Strathcona the daily train leaves at 8 o'clock, 20 minutes later and reaches Calgary at the same time 16:30. The other train also leaves later by 25 minutes, the time of departure from Strathcona being 15:40 and reaches here at 25:00 o'clock.

Going south the train leaves at the usual time 18:45 and reaches Blackfoot at 22:40. The train leaves Blackfoot at 8:05 and arrives as usual at 12 o'clock. The Lacombe and Wetaskiwin branches have now arrived at the dignity of having a schedule printed for their service.

The train leaves Lacombe Tuesdays, Thursdays and Saturdays at 13 o'clock and runs out 28 miles to Alix, reaching there at 14:30. The return is made the same day leaving Alix at 15:45 and arriving at Lacombe at 17:15. There are two stations between, Chigwallbe, 9 miles from Lacombe and Tees 19 miles out.

Wetaskiwin branch has trains out at Mondays Wednesdays and Fridays leaving Wetaskiwin at 14:30 and reaching Camrose, 25 miles distant, at 16:00 o'clock. They leave on the return the same day at 17:15 and arriving at Wetaskiwin at 18:45. The stations out from Wetaskiwin are Gwynne, 6 miles and Bittern Lake, 15 miles.

Each of these trains connect with the train which leaves Calgary on the Edmonton branch in the morning. The late train down connects with the train coming in from Alix to Lacombe. Connections cannot be made on the Wetaskiwin branch till next morning. D. Bird of Riviere Que Barre was in town yesterday. M. McCauley, Liberal candidate for Vermillion is in the city.

TALKED OF THE YUKON

[Winnipeg Tribune]
Hon. Frank Oliver, Minister of the Interior, arrived this morning from the west and is at Marling's. He visited the various offices of his department in Winnipeg today and this afternoon was at the General Hospital, where various claims of the hospital on the Government were before him. "I have, as you know, practically just returned from the Yukon," said Mr. Oliver, to the Tribune. "I made a short visit to Edmonton and am now on my way to Ottawa, taking the C. P. R. express this evening. My knowledge of conditions in the west for the last three weeks is entirely from correspondence and hearsay."

"Any provincial excitement on account of the coming provincial elections" was asked. "And any indications of the result?"

"I have just said that I have been out of the new provinces for three weeks," said Mr. Oliver, smiling the Oliverian smile.

"As to the Yukon, Mr. Oliver?" And then the Minister of the Interior talked.

"The idea that seems to prevail to some extent that the Yukon is a best mining camp, is a mistake. A great big mistake. It is in a sense the greatest gold producing mining camp in the world. When you consider that 10,000 people produced $7,000,000 in gold this year, and $9,500,000 last year, you can understand its importance. While the output of gold is declining the trade is increasing. The importance of the Yukon to Canada is not so much in the amount of gold produced. The importance is in the proportion of that gold that finds its way into the channels of Canadian trade. And the point that I would wish to impress is the urgent advisability of Canadians looking after it."

"I cannot put this matter too strongly," (Mr. Oliver could, but didn't). "It rests with Canadians whether they will benefit by opportunities in trade, which have certainly not gone by. As a matter of fact Canadian trade with the Yukon has increased as compared with the United States. Canada has now seventy-five per cent. of the Yukon trade. Seattle, however, the second city of the United States Pacific coast, has been built up on the trade of the Yukon."

"Today Seattle has an advantage over Vancouver in handling the Yukon trade as it has five passengers and freight steamers as compared with Vancouver's two running for the Yukon business. To make matters worse the two first-class Vancouver boats are to be taken off for the winter and replaced by a slow boat of the second class."

"You can understand," continued Mr. Oliver, "that the large passenger traffic, the trade that buys the goods, therefore goes to Seattle. A stage line runs three times a week between Dawson and White Horse and a daily train between White Horse and Skagway, which is an open winter port. The winter trade and travel go to Seattle, and you can understand that winter travel in that country is generally on business. The pulling off of the Vancouver boats necessarily causes the winter trade to go to Seattle which is at least as suitable as Vancouver to do the Yukon business. It is a work the direction of the winter trade to Seattle gives it a great advantage."

"The rates are pretty high, it is to be supposed?"

"From $8 to $12 a ton from Vancouver and Seattle to Skagway and from $10 to $50 from Skagway to Dawson. Hay is from $75 to $100 a ton in Dawson, there being 110 miles of a railway haul and 450 miles down stream by boat."

"The Yukon is emphatically not a 'best' camp," said Mr. Oliver, vigorously. "Owing to the changed conditions Canadian trade receives today more benefit from the $7,000,000 in gold taken out this year than from the $23,000,000 taken out in 1904. While the production is decreasing, the trade of Canada with the Yukon is increasing and this condition will continue, providing Canadians will take advantage of the necessary conditions of looking after the trade. There is ample evidence of there being still as much gold in the Yukon as has already been taken out. It will cost more, however to take it out with the consequent necessity of more expenditure in the way of supplies, machinery, etc."

"As to the immigration prospects, Mr. Oliver?"

"As you know, I have not been in close touch with that department for a few weeks but I can say that the probability of a great influx of settlers from the United States is particularly good, especially from the State of Iowa according to my advisers. Immigration from the United States into the Canadian West shows no sign of diminishing during the past year. I have that special effort will be made to bring the advantage of the Canadian West to the notice of the Eastern States of the Union in the immediate future."

"As to European immigration?"

"Reflections and reports from the British Isles lead me to suppose that our great harvests and the success of

The American "Invasion"

Washington, D.C., Oct. 3.—American Consul-General Hallway of Halifax reports to the state department that a great many Americans are migrating to Canada. The immigration into Canada from the United States during the year ended June 30, 1905, as compared with the preceding year, show a decrease of 1,528. There was however a net increase of 15,935 in the total number of immigrants to Canada for the year. Of the total entries (41,852) made in Canada during the month of June, by persons from the United States, 444 were from the Dakotas, 258 from Minnesota, 94 from the state of Washington, 56 from Kansas, 59 from Wisconsin, 42 from Michigan, 38 from Montana, 29 from Illinois, 23 from Oregon, and 22 from Idaho. A heavy influx of settlers from the United States into the Nicola and Similkameen valleys, British Columbia, he concluded was also reported.

Consul-General Hallway also reports that Dr. Hannel, Dominion superintendent of mines has organized a party to investigate and report upon the extent and character of the zinc deposits in British Columbia. Prof. W. R. Ingalls, M.E., will have charge and will be assisted by A. C. Garde. These men will carry out the field work. Henry E. Wood, of Denver, Colorado, will perform the concentration experiments. The party will be engaged in field work about two months. Afterwards Professor Ingalls will prepare and present his report to Dr. Hannel. Mr. Ingalls is regarded as an expert authority on zinc. The investigation into the zinc deposits in British Columbia has been brought about by the discovery of ore in large quantities during the development of the silver-lead mines there.

AT IT AGAIN. Vienna, Oct. 7.—Lower house of Reichsrath rejected several urgent motions in favor of universal suffrage after a speech by Premier Van Frankenhoven, which while not opposing principle of reform urged that the Emperor was not prepared for it and that there was danger of certain nationalities swamping others, and that the interests of Austria must be safeguarded. Imperial rescript was read from the throne and the sitting

SOME MEN ARE RICH

In Edmonton today because they had foresight enough two or three years ago to buy property which, as the city grew, advanced rapidly in value. Some of them were laughed at—people called them fools—but two short years have abundantly proved the correctness of their judgment, and they are reaping the reward of their faith in the city.

The growth of the city during the past two or three years has been great, out, compared with the growth of the next two or three years it will be but as the dawn of day compared with the splendor of the noon-day sun.

You have the opportunity now to do as some few did in the past.

The Groat Estate

is now on the market at prices which will look small—very small, indeed—in the very near future. The city is growing westward rapidly and ere long this estate will be the choice residential part. No part of this estate is more than two miles from the very centre of Edmonton today—in five years it will be in the very heart of the city.

There are 500 lots—50 x 150 ft.—to be sold on easy terms—one-third cash, and the balance in six and twelve months, without interest. There will be no taxes to pay for over a year.

History Repeats Itself

You can buy from two to ten lots for the same money which it will take to purchase one in the present settled part of the city. Those who sow a few dollars now will reap a rich harvest in the not-far-distant future. Don't miss the chance now—TODAY—and have to say in a year: "What a fool I was that I didn't purchase a year ago." Somebody is going to make money on this estate—why not have a share of it?

STRATHCONA NEWS

A Budget of News From the Sister

City

Mr. A. Alton and wife of town, who represents a large B.C. pipe firm left this morning for the coast, en route for New Zealand. He expects to be away about six months.

Mr. C. H. McClure of Chicago, travelling manager for the Chicago Bridge and Tank Co., is at the Dominion. He is anxiously awaiting the arrival of material for the elevated water tank in connection with the water works system. The tank when completed will hold 120,000 gallons and rest on a base 84 feet from the ground. He hopes to complete the work by Christmas. The cost will be about $8,000.

Speaking to Dr. Collison of the old days, of fourteen years ago, he said there were then only two small shacks on Whyte avenue where his present residence and where the R.R. crossing is, these stood about where the Dominion and Strathcona hotels now are. East of the R.R. crossing and near his residence, were sloughs full of water, which presented a fishy appearance. He stated too, that then there was no road to Fort Saskatchewan but a rough winding trail, and only 3 small log and mud huts at the Fort, one of which was a hotel. The Dr. predicts that during the next five years, the two sister towns will advance in population and wealth more than during the last decade.

Mr. S. D. Barnes at Waukegan, Ont., brother of Inspector Barnes of East Lambton is in town. He purposes remaining in the West about a week. He has shown his "right up his works" as he has already invested largely in real estate. He believes there is a great future in store for the two towns separated by the beautiful Saskatchewan.

Mr. James Simpson, treasurer of East Garrafrax is visiting in town. He has been in the West several months and taken up land near Del Norte. He is now negotiating with the C.P.R. for the purchase of a large block of land near Vegreville. Mr. Simpson intends to leave for the East on Monday.

Mr. Wm. McCully, Superintendent of the mail order department of the T. Eaton Co. Toronto, and Winnipeg is at the Royal. He is deeply interested in real estate on both sides of the river. He is much pleased with our country and the vast possibilities of the West.
